

PersianPulse

FOOD FACT

Calcium beyond milk

Calcium per serving, from the NIH table

Yogurt, plain, low-fat 8 oz	415 mg	32% DV
Orange juice, calcium-fortified 1 cup	349 mg	27% DV
Sardines, canned, with bones 3 oz	325 mg	25% DV
Soymilk, calcium-fortified 1 cup	299 mg	23% DV
Tofu, firm, calcium sulfate ½ cup	253 mg	19% DV
Salmon, pink, canned, with bones 3 oz	181 mg	14% DV
Bok choy, raw, shredded 1 cup	74 mg	6% DV

CHECK THE LABEL

Tofu has a lot of calcium only if it is made with calcium salts such as calcium sulfate.

DAILY VALUE

1,300 mg of calcium. 20% DV or more is high.

Dairy, fortified drinks, canned fish with bones and calcium-set tofu all count. Compare per serving.

Sources: NIH Office of Dietary Supplements; FDA

Photo: Loren Castillo · Pexels · Educational content, not medical advice.

@pomandpulse